I always loved to color when I was a kid, whether it be in actual coloring books or on the walls. Now that it's socially acceptable for adults to color as well, I can finally enjoy myself and have a great way to relax at the same time. I actually used to be an artist's assistant for awhile so coloring has a soft spot in my heart, and I'm so happy that I finally got an adult coloring book to call my own instead of taking sheets from my friends. Now, before I get onto the good stuff; I just wanted to make sure that you know that before you buy this coloring book, you need to have your own colored pencils. I understand that this coloring book comes with twelve already, but they aren't the best quality. As you can tell by the photo attached (the one that has colored pencils on it), they have a grainy, sort of crayon, color to them. Compared to the leading colored pencils brand, these don't have the best of color. They still work though, but if you want something that's solid then buying a different pack of colored pencils is the way to go. Also, the sharpener doesn't seem to work at all as shown in the video but that's not too bad since I have one of my own. The first page was already a little detached from the book which was a bit disappointing since it fell off when I was coloring it, and I wanted to keep all my pages in the book. Hopefully the rest of the pages will stay in the book since I'll have nowhere to put them otherwise. Also, the ink on some of the pages isn't the best of quality since there are random white spots scattered about the black ink. This is very odd seeing as the opposite occurs on some of the pages where the ink is jet black with not a single hint of white in sight (that rhyme though).
